COLLEGE 4TH YEAR WITH 325 STUDENTS

Connecticut College For Women will open next Monday, Sept. 23, at New London. For the fourth academic year with an enrollment of 325 students and completed record of four classes in attendance.

The freshman class comprises approximately seventy-five students and represents many states. To provide dormitory accommodations for the entering class has been a serious problem but up to the present time practically all applicants for residence have been able to find homes in the vicinity of the college have been secured, accommodation in private homes provided and the new dormitory, North cottage, at the north end of the college campus completed for occupancy this fall.

This year for the first time the four year curriculum complete in all branches will be offered. Before leaving the campus in June, students made elections for courses and displayed considerable zeal and enthusiasm in the new courses scheduled which expanded the curriculum to give balance, proportion and timeliness demanded by the modern minded college students.

Prevalent war conditions, in addition to curriculum provisions made in accordance have affected the college faculty to a considerable degree. Several of the faculty have been released on leave of absence to do war work of one sort or another. Miss Hazel Woodhull, assistant professor of physical education, is serving with the Red Cross work in France. Dr. Frank E. Morris, instructor in psychology and education is serving in the sanitation department of the medical department of the United States Army. Dr. Helen B. Thompson of the dietetics department has resigned to accept a position as dean of the home economics department of the Kansas State Agricultural College at Manhattan, Kansas. The department at Kansas has an enrollment of six hundred students and a teaching staff of twenty-six instructors of which Miss Thompson will assume charge. Mrs. Francesa Bostwick, instructor in phonography, has accepted a position in the interior department of the United States Army. Dr. John W. Wainwright, who has been appointed to the physics department, is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

Many additions have been made to the teaching staff of the college and mention of the following may be made at the present time: Miss Mary McKee, who has been appointed assistant professor of chemistry and physiology, is a graduate of Middlebury college and has done supplementary work in the chemistry of foods and dietetics at Hollins College, Va. Miss Lillian Rosanoff, who has been appointed to the physics department, is a graduate of Barnard college, Columbia university and Clerk. She was Hoff research fellow at Bryn Mawr.

JAILED FOR ATTACKING COLCHESTER SCHOOL TEACHER
Michael and Katie Zanolwitz, husband and wife, residents of Colchester, were found guilty by the jury in the superior court at New London on the charge of assault and battery upon Miss Annie Matilda Stankewicz, teacher at a Colchester school, where two children of the accused went to school.

The two defendants denied making the assault and claimed that injuries which Miss Stankewicz testified to were received in a runaway on the morning of the day in question. This was on Monday, Nov. 12, 1917. The accused claimed that the school teacher was hurt in the runaway on the morning of the day in question. The school teacher testified that she was assaulted by the man and his wife while she was on her way home after leaving school at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Zanolwitz carried a big club, the school teacher testified, and hit her the first blow on the hip and Mr. Zanolwitz kicked her in the stomach and punched her in the ribs. She was in bed for ten days under the doctor's care and then for three weeks in the Jackson hospital at Norwich. She was not able to resume school teaching until the following January.

Miss Stankewicz testified that her assailants blamed her for reporting the case to the school supervisor so that the parents were to have been obliged to pay a fine.

Dr. J. M. Klein of Colchester testified to the injuries to the school teacher and Jeremiah J. Sullivan, a town school visitor, to the bad feeling of the two accused towards the school teacher. Another witness for the state was Frank W. Wainwright, whom the school teacher was driving at the time of the runaway.

The two accused made a general denial when put on the stand. Miss Zanolwitz, daughter of the accused, Francesa Glaskowsky, Fairfield Gray, Charles F. Brown and Sam Kabatznik were other witnesses for the accused.

There is also a civil suit for damages brought by the school teacher against the two defendants.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty against both defendants. The man after being out about twenty minutes.

In moving for sentence State Attorney Hadial A. Hill said he thought the man ought to be given a substantial sentence while the woman was not so much to blame for the assault. He said he had learned that Zanolwitz had been referred to as a badly beaten Janowitz recently and the attorney indicated that he thought the family could be taken care of if the penalty imposed should be a fine. Judge Case, however, said there was going to be no fine in this case, for there had been a serious attack in the highway upon a slight girl by a man and a woman. He gave Zanolwitz a term of six months in jail and his wife is released upon her own recognizance and is to report to the court at such time as may be appointed.

AUTO TRUCK BURNED WITH FURNITURE LOAD
Early Tuesday evening a large auto moving van owned by the Ricard Moving company of Bridgeport was practically destroyed by fire when the car caught from backfire from the engine. The truck was heavily loaded at the time, having just taken on a load of household goods in this city. Some of the goods were saved but the greater part were badly damaged. The chemical from the West Side went to the fire and it was found that it was necessary to use a hose from a hydrant to get the fire put out but not before it had wrecked the car.

MADE VISIT TO CAMP DEVENS.
Mrs. Emil A. Jahn of the East Side and Mrs. John Waltz of the East Side returned from Camp Devens on Sunday evening, having spent Sunday with Mrs. Jahn's son, Private Ira R. Laycock, Supply Co. 3rd Inf. They spent Saturday night in Worcester, and arrived at Camp Devens at 8:30. At noon when dinner was being served Private Laycock was asked to bring his guests to dinner which he did. It was a great treat for ladies to be served in the mess room. A fine dinner was served, consisting of chicken fricasse, mashed potato and turnip, cranberry sauce, bread and butter, celery, lemonade, coffee and ice cream. The ladies did not taste fine and the boys have all they can eat. After dinner some of the ladies played the piano and the boys sang. The party then visited some of the Y. M. C. A. camps of which they speak very highly. Both Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross are busy taking care of the boys and the organizations are doing for them.

GREENWICH RED IN NEW LONDON JAIL.
The man in the county jail at New London who was sent up from the police court for intoxication and who Policeman O'Donnell believed when he saw a picture of Greenwich Red in the jail was the notorious Rhode Island crook who has been wanted very much in the past and who is supposed to have been connected with a robbery at Volantown. The identification is complete and Red has admitted his identity. If he is still wanted for any crime he will be turned over to the authorities that have the necessary papers when he has completed his term in the New London Jail. Jailor Reed has been at work on the case since Officer O'Donnell's conviction and he said there and Red were one and the same person and now he has secured an admission from Red that leaves no doubt of his identity.

GAVE FRENCH BAND SUPPER AT Y. M. C. A.
The French army band was entertained at the local Y. M. C. A. from 6 to 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. Quite a number of the men availed themselves of the privilege of writing letters on the Red Cross stationery and others enjoyed playing billiards. At 8:30 the men were invited to partake of supper which was prepared by members of the Y. M. C. A. and the guests evidently enjoyed the repast. The following ladies constituted the committee in charge, Mrs. C. D. Sevin being chairman: Mrs. W. L. Stearns, Mrs. N. A. DeProsse, Mrs. Howard L. L. Smith, Mrs. William H. H. Smith, William Wyman and Miss Mary Porteous. The waitresses were Miss Ethel Morgan, Miss Elsie Smith, Miss Charles C. Smith, Miss Ruth Loring, Miss Henrietta Galpin, Miss Villette Peck, Miss Florine Schofield, Mrs. Raymond Sherman and Miss Julia Clark.

Seated at the head table were Capt. Gabriel Pares and his adjutant, His Honor Mayor J. J. Desmond, James C. Macpherson, vice president of the association, Jacob Munn, Lieut. Boisson and Secretary Mr. Macpherson. In a few well chosen words welcomed the guests and his address was translated by Lieut. Coisson. Capt. Pares responded, expressing his appreciation for the hospitality and kindness of the Y. M. C. A. paying special tribute to the ladies. At the close of his address he asked members of his band to express their feelings of his hand by playing a few songs which they did by a very unique style of hand-clapping. Mayor Desmond made the closing remarks, which were loudly applauded.

INFLUENZA SPREADS IN EASTERN CONNECTICUT.
Dr. E. J. Brooks, health officer of the town, reported the spreading of Spanish influenza is spreading rapidly in the eastern end of the state, especially because of the difficulty of isolating affected persons. The disease is becoming daily more difficult in consequence, he said, and people should realize, both for their own good and that of others, that it is to call the physicians out late at night, but not in their calls before 10 o'clock in the evening.

He warned also that patients who have the influenza should not get out of bed until permitted to do so by the doctor's permission. Some have done so, when they thought the fever was gone, and it almost always results in a relapse that lays the patient up for a week more and is dangerous besides.
